

Talbert Collection

c. 1880-1960s

12 glass plate negatives, 1801 postcards, 46 photographs, one document | 15 linear feet of records | 29 boxes

Darrell and Kym Talbert are longtime residents of Corona who collect images, documents, and ephemera related to South Riverside, Corona, and the Inland Empire. The Talbert Collection consists of plate glass negatives, postcards, photographs, and documents that were formerly part of the Talbert's private collection. The images contained on the negatives and postcards document the citrus industry, special events, leisure activities, transportation, local businesses, private residences, and landscape of the region.

The collection is arranged into four series. Series 1: Plate Glass Negatives This series focuses on early Corona, with images of Grand Boulevard, Carnegie Library, Corona City Hall (Main Street), and the original Corona High School. Series 2: Postcards The postcard series includes black and white, color, cyanotype, and hand tinted images of Corona, Riverside, and the Inland Empire. Included in this series are images the Corona Road Races and citrus industry. Series 3: Photographs Within this series are black and white images of Corona, the Road Races, and various out of area scenes. Series 4: Documents This brief series consists of a single business card.
